

We would like to see another Caribou Survey done this spring and try to have no boundry set, try to include every land there is.

Out of the 500 Caribou allowed to be hunted we would like this break down.

400 male allowed to be catch, for a total of 500 Caribou's.

Jusa Iqaqrialu:

If we are ban for hunting Caribou, I myself would like to see Igloolik and Hall Beach be included in the ban. The reason why I wanted them included is because they are in the passage way into Baffin Island.

Yours truly, (Hunter)

As I was growing up as a kid, I remember in the early year of 1950. There was hardly any Caribou around Clyde River. During summer time they would have to walk a very long distance in search of Caribou, they were looking for Caribou so they could have the skin as their clothing and the meat as their food, if they caught enough Caribou they sometimes stash the Caribou meat for winter time so they could have meat in the winter.

Back then when we were in search of Caribou we were walking with our dogs, some years there was hardly any snow on the ground so we had to improvise on dragging the Caribou meat, we sometimes use Polar Bear hide as our sled or bearded seal skin. The terrain is not always smooth, we sometimes have to go through rough rock, go through ice cold rivers to cross to the other side.

Back then the hunters did not seem to think that the Caribou are declining. It seems that in some years there are lots of Caribou and some years there are fewer(life cycle).

We will probably see a lot of Caribou sooner or later because they are always wondering around, looking for food and go to their mating grounds and calving area.

Yours truly,

Ilkoo Angutikjuak

I don't have much to say, but I just wanted to say that we were going to be notified a while ago with specific detail but we found out early in December that the ban is in effect. I am not mad or upset that the Caribou ban has happen in Baffin Island. It has be many years since the Caribou had started to get away from Baffin Island. They are not being swiped out by people nor by wolves alone, it is both of us that are finishing the caribou. I am not blaming people for almost finishing the caribou.

To whom it may concern:

Hello I am one of the elder in the community of Clyde River. I have some issue about the Caribou Ban. I don't want the ban to happen. For the following reason.

Our hunters have to go a very long distance to search for Caribou. They usually travel a day or two to reach the place where they would like to hunt for Caribou. Sometimes the hunters are out hunting for 1 week or longer searching for Caribou. They sometimes come home empty handed even if they were out of town searching for Caribou for a week or longer.

So I would like to see the Caribou hunt continue so our hunters can go Caribou hunt and provide food for the Community of Clyde River.

Thank you in reading my letter, yours truly an Elder
