

NUNAVUT WILDLIFE RESEARCH TRUST FUNDING GUIDE

INTRODUCTION

Article 5.2.37 of the Nunavut Agreement states "there is a need for an effective system of wildlife management, and to be effective, the system of management requires an efficient, coordinated research effort."

The Nunavut Wildlife Research Trust (NWRT or Trust), which is administered by the Nunavut Wildlife Management Board (NWMB) provides funding for government departments to carry out wildlife research in Nunavut that addresses the priorities of the NWMB and Inuit. The Trust provides an annual allocation to address wildlife research priorities as identified by the NWMB through its identification of NWMB and Regional Wildlife Priorities in the three regions of Nunavut.

Research is necessary to ensure that wildlife resources are harvested in a knowledgeable and sustainable way so that Nunavummiut can continue the hunting and fishing that is so essential to their way of life. The NWMB has a lead role to play in this area and is committed to making wildlife research responsive to the needs and concerns of the people of Nunavut.

Each year in December, the Trustees of the NWRT determine the amount of funding that will be available in each funding period based on the performance of the Trust. The NWRT responsibly manages the Trust to ensure that the funds continue to grow and are therefore available for wildlife research over the long-term. The performance of the NWRT is updated yearly in the NWMB's yearly annual reports, which are publicly available.

ELIGIBILITY FOR FUNDING

Only Canadian Federal or Nunavut territorial government departments are eligible for funding by the NWRT. The research must be carried out within the Nunavut Settlement Area or adjacent marine areas and contribute to Nunavut's wildlife management.

Past funding has been awarded to the following government departments:

1. Government of Nunavut - Department of Environment
2. Department of Fisheries and Oceans Canada
3. Canadian Wildlife Service
4. Parks Canada

Funding is not limited to these Canadian federal or Nunavut territorial government departments; other departments expressing interest in applying for NWRT funding must ensure that the proposed project meets the criteria of the NWRT as specified in this funding guide.

A government department is not limited in the number of applications it submits for NWRT funding. However, government departments should consider that there is a limited amount of funding available each year. By submitting a proposal, the department is committing to the time required to complete the project.

All applications must be submitted by an employee on behalf of a Canadian Federal or Nunavut territorial government department.

The NWRT requires that a minimum of 50% of the total project budget be funded by the applicant or other external sources, excluding in-kind contributions.

NWRT funds can be used for budget items that directly support a proposed research project, including but not limited to:

- community contracts (NWRT will fund Inuit contracted employees);
- honoraria;
- travel to and from fieldwork location for Inuit hires (including meals, accommodations, incidentals);
- catering;
- laboratory and field supplies that will be expended during the funding period;
- rental costs for equipment and vehicles specific to the project;
- fuel costs for the year the NWRT has funded a project;
- shipping;
- translation costs.

The NWRT will not fund budget items that do not directly support a proposed research project. The following are examples of budget items that the NWRT will not fund:

- equipment purchase and leasing, unless the equipment is specific to the project;
- maintenance cost of equipment already owned by a government department;
- funding for equipment or supplies for future years of research if not occurring in the funding year (e.g. large fuel purchases);
- government department salaries (whether full-time or contract employees), overtime and/or student stipends.
- government staff travel expenses (including meals and accommodations);
- administration fees (e.g. cost for recovery of light, heat, office and/or laboratory supplies);
- capital works and/or general infrastructures costs (the NWRT will not fund any part of the contribution to purchase capital assets totalling $2,000 or more).

APPLICATION PROCEDURE AND FORMAT

The NWMB will issue a call for proposals each year, including any policy changes, to government departments by no later than 1 October. The application deadline for each funding year is 15 January. The NWRT considers proposals for funding in March of each year.

Applications can be submitted in Inuktitut or English and must comply with the format, content and submission requirements as specified in the application form available from the NWMB's website (www.nwmb.com). The NWRT expects that as much detail as possible will be provided for all sections, within the limitations provided in the application form. All details in the application must be current at the time of the submission and must be focused on the current funding year and not the long-term research plans for the project. Applicants are responsible for ensuring that their applications are complete. If an application fails to meet any format, content or submission requirements, the NWMB will not accept the application.

Applications must be submitted by a designated project leader who must take responsibility for the proposed project and communication of the results. The NWRT defines a project leader as an individual who will: (1) be responsible for the direction of the proposed project; (2) assume the administrative and financial responsibility of the projects; and (3) receive all related correspondence from the NWMB. In submitting a proposal, the department and project leader are consenting to the proposal being publicly available.

At the time of submission of a proposal all obligations regarding previously funded projects involving the project leader must have been fulfilled to the satisfaction of the NWRT. Such obligations include the provision of progress interim reports, interim financial reports, final financial reports and final reports. Any outstanding obligations will be factored into the scoring of the proposal by NWMB staff and may not be eligible for further funding

The deadline for applicants is 5:00 pm (Eastern Standard Time) on 15 January of each year. Additions, deletions and modifications will not be accepted after submission, unless invited or pre-approved by the NWMB. Proposals may be withdrawn by providing written notice to the NWMB.

All applications will be assessed for completeness and issued an NWRT project number by 30 January and the associated department and the Project Leader will be notified of this number for future communication. The department and Project Leaders are expected to use this NWRT project number in all future communications with the NWMB.

FUNDING LEVELS

The amount of funding available from the NWRT for the funding year will be decided annually by the Trustees in December. The Trustees will consider eligible applications that meet the submission requirements based on their merits and in light of the funding available. The NWRT requires that a minimum of 50% of the total project budget be funded by the applicant or other external sources, excluding in-kind contributions.

Requests for NWRT funds normally far exceed the amount available in each year. In selecting projects for NWRT funding, the NWRT strives to fund projects that are applicable to upcoming wildlife management decision and recommendations, address research gaps or conservation concerns and directly address the identified NWMB and regional wildlife priorities (please refer to the current NWMB Wildlife Priorities and Regional Wildlife Priorities in Appendix B and available online at www.nwmb.com/funding/priorities).

Applicants may request NWRT funding in two ways:

1. Single year funding; and
2. Preliminary study funding

SINGLE-YEAR FUNDING

Individual projects may request single-year funding up to $100,000.

Applicants may apply for single-year funding for a project that was previously funded by the Trust. However, receiving funding during one funding period does not guarantee that the project will be funded in future years. In addition, each year's application must state the rationale and research plan for that funding year.

PRELIMINARY STUDY FUNDING

Individual preliminary studies may request up to $15,000.

Preliminary studies should be designed to allow for community consultation and/or the formation of a project design in consultation with co-management partners or consultants prior to a full funding request. The maximum amount of preliminary study funding that can be awarded each funding year is 5% of the total funds available to allocate.

Examples of project focuses that would be eligible for preliminary study funding are the following:

- consultation on research methods prior to development of research project;
- consultation on community support for a proposed study;
- consultation on level of community involvement and participation in a research project;
- consultation on how to include Inuit Qaujimagatugangit (IQ)/Traditional Ecological Knowledge (TEK) in a research project.

While research may be undertaken and is encouraged during this preliminary year of work, it will not be a requirement of the funding. A single project will only be eligible for preliminary study funding once. The NWRT expects that the results obtained while receiving preliminary study funding will lead to the development of a research project in future years.

UNUSED FUNDS / CARRY-OVER OF FUNDING

Successful applicants should be aware that any funds remaining unused at the end of the fiscal year (31 March) must be returned to the NWMB by 1 May.

Researchers are encouraged to budget carefully. Funds tied up in projects but not used may result in other worthwhile projects not being undertaken due to a lack of funds.

Successful applicants with single-year or preliminary funding approval may request to carry-over funds. Applicants can request to carry over a maximum of 25% of the total NWRT contribution. For the carry-over request to be considered, the applicant must submit a carry-over request form (Appendix A). The form includes a section for the applicant to provide reasons for the request, and to submit a revised budget that describes how the carry-over will be used and the implications to the project's objectives. All requests to carry-over funding must be received by 15 March.

A response to all carry-over requests will be provided by 31 March.

RESEARCH PRIORITIES

The NWMB has established its own Wildlife Priorities based on the NWMB's main duties and functions as per subsections 5.2.33 and 5.2.34 of the Nunavut Agreement. In addition, the NWMB will assist the three Regional Wildlife Boards to develop Regional Wildlife Priorities through the completion of Regional Wildlife Priorities Workshops once every three years.

Research proposals will have a better chance of being funded if they address a NWMB or regional priority (please refer to the current NWMB Wildlife Priorities and Regional Wildlife Priorities available online at www.nwmb.com/funding/priorities and in Appendix B). Researchers must rank the priorities and clearly indicate how the project will address each of the priorities in the appropriate section of the NWRT application. Applicants must use the Regional Priorities specific to the study area.

The NWRT accepts a broad and simple definition of research as simply "finding things out". This can be done by western scientific methods, the gathering of Inuit Qaujimagatuqangit (IQ)/Traditional Ecological Knowledge (TEK), or a combination of the two. The NWMB understands Inuit Qaujimagatuqangit to mean "traditional Inuit values, knowledge, behaviour, perceptions and expectations, which also includes community knowledge". The NWMB encourages the use of available IQ/TEK in research to the extent possible and demonstration that this information has been considered in the study's goals, objectives, and design.

The NWRT expects that the relevant Hunters and Trappers Organization(s) (HTO) or Regional Wildlife Organization(s) (RWO) will assist with the identification of appropriate knowledge holders to obtain information. In addition, projects that include or incorporate TEK/IQ should commit to identifying key informants in reports, presentations, and publications, unless confidentiality has been specifically requested. The NWRT also expects projects to include opportunities for Inuit participants to report on the proceedings and results of the project.

The NWRT is not an economic development agency; hence projects aimed solely at economic development and resource development activities will generally not be considered for funding. Similarly, the NWRT is not primarily focused on effects to human health or related issues. Research on contaminants, animal health and diseases, etc. will be considered insofar as they concern the productivity or health of the wildlife populations themselves, which must clearly be outlined in the application.

Projects that involve the compilation of existing data will not be funded, unless this is an integral part of a project which is judged to be necessary in meeting wildlife management and research priorities. In such cases, the proposal must include a detailed basis for and statement indicating the research objectives to which the data would contribute and provide the specific research questions to be addressed. Projects that involve the development of research aids and tools (including computer programs), must include a detailed basis for, and statement indicating, the research objectives to which these activities would contribute and provide the specific research questions to be addressed.

CONSULTATION REQUIREMENTS

The NWRT anticipates that most research will be done with the cooperation and active participation of local people. Hence, consultation before, during and after the project is a requirement for research sponsored by the NWRT.

Before submitting an application for NWRT funding, applicants must send a description of the project, including the project's objectives, justification and methods to all affected HTOs. Proof of sending this information must be submitted with your NWRT application. The consultation requirement of the NWRT for projects that affect less than five communities is a letter of support from each of the affected HTO(s). The consultation requirement for projects that affect five or more communities is a letter of support from the affected RWO(s). If these five or more communities are split between two or more regions, you must obtain a letter of support from each RWO. Ideally, proponents should obtain support from the relevant HTO(s)/RWO(s) prior to applying for NWRT funds. While the NWRT recognizes that this is not always possible, all proponents must have made at least initial written contact with the relevant HTO(s)/RWO(s) prior to submitting a proposal to the NWRT and provided a copy of these initial contact letters with their proposal to be considered for funding. Letters of support from the relevant HTO(s)/RWO(s) as a condition of funding must be met by 30 June.

In cases where the project leader is denied or is unable to obtain letters of support from all affected communities, the NWRT will still consider or fund a project if:

- a majority of communities provide letters in support of the research and the researcher has done a “conscientious” job of consulting; or
- the researcher has done a conscientious job of consulting, and there are no objections from the communities (although communities may not have sent a letter of support).
- In cases where the project leader has demonstrated conscientious consultation, received support letters from most communities, but there are objections from others, the issue be brought to the attention of Trustees for consideration.

For further clarification, a guideline as to what constitutes “conscientious consultation” is that it

“...imposes on the researcher a positive obligation to reasonably ensure that people and organizations affected by a proposed research project are provided with all necessary information in a timely manner so that they have a reasonable opportunity to express their interests and concerns, and to ensure that their representations are seriously considered and wherever possible – particularly when the research proposal is of high significance to those affected – demonstrably integrated into the research proposal.”

The NWRT requires the following demonstration of conscientious consultation, when HTO(s)/RWO(s) letters of support have not been obtained:

1. A description of the timing and methods of consultation;
2. Evidence of adequate communications with the affected HTO(s) and RWO(s), providing them in a timely manner with:
 - a. all the necessary information required to evaluate the proposal; and
 - b. a reasonable opportunity to express their interests and concerns, and/or to provide a letter of support
3. If HTO(s)/RWO(s) interests and concerns were expressed, but no supporting letter provided, a copy (or description) of their representations, and evidence that these were seriously considered and/or demonstrably integrated into the research proposal;
4. If no supporting letter was provided, evidence of adequate follow-up communications, consisting of one or more phone call attempts, one or more e-mail attempts, and one registered letter – with copies of the researcher’s written communications provided; and
5. All HTO(s)/RWO(s) responses to follow-up communications.

The NWRT expects that departments will report the results of their work to local communities. Plans for community reporting must be provided in the proposal. Copies of community reports must also be provided to the NWMB. The NWRT recommends that all projects provide in-community reporting of the results but understands that due to logistics and costs that this is not always possible.

REPORTING REQUIREMENTS

The following reports are required by the NWRT:

1. Interim Project Report (15 December)

2. Interim Financial Report (15 December)
3. Final Financial Report (1 June)
4. Final Project Report (30 September)

It is the responsibility of the project leader to coordinate the submission of these reports. New project proposals will not be accepted from project leaders with outstanding interim and final reports.

Interim financial reports and final financial reports must be verified by the Department's finance/accounting department, with proof of verification (signature) submitted to the NWMB.

Reports may be submitted by e-mail (preferred), fax or regular mail. If submitting electronically, do not send additional hard copies. Receipt of all reports will be acknowledged by NWMB staff when received. For electronic submissions, the file names of each report should follow the following format: <NWRT project number> <project leader's last name> <type of report> <date of submission (year/month/date)> (e.g. 3-09-01-Smith-Interim project report-100115).

Requests for extensions of the NWRT reporting requirements will be considered on a case by case basis, if a persuasive argument can be made for granting an extension. Requests for extensions must be made to NWMB staff in writing two weeks in advance of the deadline of a report. If a request for extension is granted an agreed upon deadline for the report will be negotiated with the project leader and the NWMB.

All reports that are submitted after the deadline that were not previously granted an extension will be considered late and this will be factored into future funding requests from the project leader. Those applicants granted an extension will be able to submit new project proposals but will have 6 points deducted from a new project proposal.

INTERIM PROJECT REPORTS

The purpose of this report is to provide the NWRT with information on the progress of the project before new proposals are considered for the coming year.

Interim reports should provide an indication of the work completed, the ongoing work, the known or anticipated results, the employment and training provided to Nunavut beneficiaries and future plans. Interim reports need not be as detailed as final reports and should not exceed 4 pages; interim reports that exceed 4 pages will be returned to the project leader.

Interim Project Reports are required by 15 December, and must follow this format.

Required format for Interim Project Reports:

1. NWRT Project Number: (e.g. 3-09-01)
2. Project Title: Provide a one to two sentence title as identified in your application for funding.
3. Project Leader: Provide name and contact information, including a telephone and email where you can be reached.
4. Summary: Provide a one to two paragraph non-technical summary of your project (.
5. Project Objectives: Provide a one to two paragraph update and status on the project objectives, including any changes.

Final project reports will be used by the NWMB as the basis for making decisions about the wildlife population in question, if required. Final project reports are required by 30 September of the year in which NWRT funding concludes, and should follow the format provided below.

This report should provide all relevant results and conclusions from the research. The final project report should be as detailed as possible, including all technical information. There is no page limitation for final project reports. The final project report should also include a report by one or more Inuit participants (if applicable) on the operations and results of the project. If these participants choose not to provide a report, evidence should be provided that the opportunity to do so was available. A template report, with example questions for discussion is attached as Appendix C to this guide.

INTERIM AND FINAL FINANCIAL REPORTS

Interim financial reports will be used in conjunction with the interim project reports in reviewing the status of projects, assessing carry-over requests and determining funds available for future projects. Final financial reports provide the NWMB with a final report on how the NWRT contribution was spent.

Interim financial reports are required by 15 December and final financial reports by 1 June; both reports must follow the format provided below. Interim financial reports should not exceed 2 pages. The interim financial report may also serve as the final financial report if all research and expenses are complete prior to submission of the interim report. If the interim financial report is to serve as the final financial report, this must be confirmed to the NWMB in writing when the applicant submits the report to the NWMB. Interim financial reports should include projections of expenditures to the end of the fiscal year if research is still on-going.

Any significant variance ($1000 or 10% on any line item) from the budget in the original proposal accepted by the NWMB must be explained.

Required format for Interim and Final Financial Reports:

1. NWRT Project Number: (e.g. 3-09-01)

PROPOSAL EVALUATION

The evaluation process of applications for NWRT funding involves a two-fold review process, which includes scoring of the proposals by a panel of NWMB's Wildlife Section staff and then a review by NWRT Trustees at their March meeting.

The NWMB's Wildlife Section evaluation is based on a set scoring system using five main criteria to determine a total score out of 100:

1. Wildlife Priority (20 points)
2. Application of Results (20 points)
3. Quality of Research (30 points)
4. Training and Employment (15 points)
5. Consultation and Reporting (15 points)

Applicants should be aware that not all proposals are brought to the NWRT review meeting in March for consideration by the Trustees. A proposal must score at least 65 points to be considered. In addition, the Trustees are only presented with the top scoring proposals that together do not exceed 135% of the funds available for allocation. All government departments and project leaders will be notified in writing no later than 15 February if their project will proceed to the second evaluation process.

The Trustees will publicly review the proposals in the second evaluation process at the NWRT meeting. NWMB Wildlife Section staff will provide a briefing note summary of the project based on the information provided. Applicants are not required to present their proposals to the Trustees. However, applicants are allowed, and encouraged, to sit-in during the Trustees' review of the proposals and are encouraged to do so to respond to questions from the Trustees if possible. Representatives from government departments that have submitted proposals are required to be present at the meeting to respond to general questions regarding applications. The NWRT recommends that this representative be familiar with all of the department's application(s). Notification of the meeting date will be provided to each government department by 15 February.

Receiving a high score based on the scoring criteria does not automatically mean that a research project will be funded. The Trustees consider a number of other external factors when determining which projects merit NWRT funding.

Trustees have the right to make recommendations solely on the basis of their knowledge and expertise, and may:

- decide if the proposal meets the eligibility criteria set out in this funding guide;
- identify and consider any other additional information that the proposal or NWMB staff did not consider when recommending a proposal be funded or not funded;

- determine an alternative ranking of the proposals based on more recent priorities;
- assess and recommend different amounts of funding for a proposal; and
- create additional funding conditions prior to the issuance of funding.

SCORING CRITERIA: WILDLIFE PRIORITY

Management and research priorities are scored by NWMB Wildlife Section staff based on NWMB and Regional Wildlife Priorities for a total score of 20 points.

The NWMB priorities are established by the Board based on the NWMB’s primary and secondary objectives as outlined in subsections 5.2.33 and 5.2.34 of the Nunavut Land Claims Agreement. The NWMB’s wildlife priorities can be found in Appendix B and are available on the NWMB’s website (www.nwmb.com/funding/priorities). The NWMB priorities are ranked from 1 to 4. The maximum point allocation for NWMB priorities is 10 points.

The Regional Wildlife Priorities are established by the NWMB through regional workshops completed by the NWMB with the Regional Wildlife Organizations every three years. The regional priorities are ranked from 1 to 6, as determined by regional representatives. The maximum point allocation for these priorities is 10 points.

NWMB Priority	10.0 points
Regional Priority	10.0 points

To qualify for the point allocations for the NWMB and regional priorities, the project’s main objectives must address the priority and the results of the project must directly contribute to addressing the priority through the application of results. Applications should explicitly identify the NWMB and regional priorities addressed by the project. If a project addresses a number of priorities, the point allocation will be assigned based on the most relevant priority.

SCORING CRITERIA: APPLICATION OF RESULTS

The application of results is scored by NWMB Wildlife Section staff based on its overall research need, ability to address wildlife and/or wildlife habitat research gaps in Nunavut and its applicability to upcoming NWMB wildlife management decisions and recommendations. Preference will be given to research projects that address current wildlife conservation concerns in Nunavut. The maximum score for the application of results criteria is 20 points.

Will the research provide information that will be applicable to the NWMB in its wildlife management decisions and recommendations in the near future (1–3 years)?	7.5 points
Will the project provide important information that will improve knowledge in a research field that is relevant to the NWMB's mandate or program areas (e.g., species biology, Inuit Qaujimagatuqangit, climate change impacts on wildlife, habitat, etc.)?	6.0 points
Is the study species experiencing or suspected to be experiencing population declines or reduction in population health (i.e., conservation concern)?	6.5 points

SCORING CRITERIA: QUALITY OF RESEARCH

The quality of research is scored by NWMB Wildlife Section staff based on the following criteria, for a maximum of 30 points.

Did the background information place the research question in context?	1.0 point
Have the research questions and objectives been clearly specified?	2.0 point
How well does the proposed methodology fit the research objectives? Will the methodology effectively address the research question and objectives?	7.0 points
Does the methodology include appropriate statistical analysis? (2 pts for including statistical analyses and 2 pts for appropriateness of the analyses)	4.0 points
Is the sample size appropriate?	2.0 points
Does the application include a detailed map and description of the study area?	1.0 points
Is the research schedule appropriate and realistic?	3.0 points
Is the budget complete and detailed?	3.0 points
Does the project use a combination of IQ/TEK and conventional scientific knowledge?	7.0 points

SCORING CRITERIA: TRAINING AND EMPLOYMENT

The NWMB expects that research carried out in the Nunavut Settlement Area will be done in partnership with Inuit. As such, preference will be given to projects that offer employment and training to Nunavut beneficiaries. The maximum score for the training and employment criteria is 15 points.

Employment for Nunavut beneficiaries	10.0 points
Training for Nunavut beneficiaries	5.0 points

SCORING CRITERIA: CONSULTATION AND REPORTING

Consultation and reporting is scored by NWMB Wildlife Section staff based on three main criteria, for a maximum of 15 points. The NWMB encourages applicants to consult with the communities as early as possible in the study design. Applicants should note that although letters of support are not required by the application deadline, applications that have already received letters of support are given a higher score.

Regional or community pre-study consultation and support for project (e.g. support letters received, in-community consultation, phone calls, plans)	8.0 points
Plans for reporting to communities (e.g. in-community reporting, distribution of a report)	4.0 points
Plans for publications (peer-reviewed journal articles, departmental report)	3.0 points

BONUS POINTS: PREVIOUS NWRT CONTRIBUTION

Although the NWRT does not offer multi-year funding, multi-year projects that received NWRT funding the previous year will be given a bonus of 2 points. The bonus is contingent on the NWMB receiving satisfactory interim progress reports by the reporting deadline. These bonus points are meant to reflect the NWRT's recognition that some research designs require multiple years to complete and that previous resources may be wasted if the project does not receive continued support.

Applicants are strongly discouraged from contacting the NWMB's Wildlife Section staff regarding the scoring of their proposal(s). The total scores will be publicly available when the NWRT conducts its review at its March meeting and will be available online at www.nwmb.com, however total scores will not be sent to individual applicants. In addition, the breakdown and rationale for the scores made by NWMB staff are not publicly available and are only made available to Trustees upon request.

DEDUCTIONS: OUTSTANDING OR LATE REPORTS

Applications received from project leaders with outstanding reports or late submission of reports from previous NWRT funded projects will be penalized by a deduction of points on their current application. New project proposals will not be accepted from applicants with outstanding final or interim reports. Applicants who submitted reports late during the previous funding period will be deducted 6 points.

NOTIFICATION OF FUNDING DECISIONS AND FUNDING CONDITIONS

All departments will be advised through written notification of the NWRT's funding decisions by 15 April. Projects that have been approved for funding will also be notified of the funding conditions that are required to be met. All funding conditions must be met by 30 June.

For projects that have not met the NWRT consultation requirements at the time of NWMB approval, funding will be conditional on the project meeting the NWRT consultation requirements. The NWRT may also establish additional funding conditions prior to funding being issued.

Each lead researcher is responsible for submitting confirmation of the funding conditions for their project(s).

Requests for extensions to meeting NWRT funding conditions will be considered on a case-by-case basis, if a persuasive argument can be made for granting an extension. Requests for extensions must be made to the NWMB two weeks in advance of the 30 June deadline. If a request for an extension is granted, an agreed upon deadline will be negotiated with the project leader and NWMB staff.

CONTRIBUTION AGREEMENT

Once the funding conditions have been met or the deadline has passed, the NWMB will execute a Contribution Agreement with the associated government department. NWMB staff will contact senior government officials to deliver the Contribution Agreement by 1 August.

The NWMB will not execute individual Contribution Agreements with project leaders. Furthermore, NWMB will not amend the Contribution Agreements after they have been negotiated.

#3 Ranked Priorities:

- Contributes to the assessment of species under the Species at Risk Act and/or the recovery of species listed under the Species at Risk Act (S 5.2.34 (d));

APPENDIX C – TOPICS FOR REPORTING BY INUIT PARTICIPANTS

The following are questions that may be helpful in providing a report on the methods, results, and interpretation of the project:

1. Were you involved in the development of the methods? If so, do you feel that your input was considered and applied?
2. Do you think that the methods of the project were appropriate for the purpose? If not, how could they be improved?
3. Did the project effectively incorporate Inuit Qaujimagatuqangit? If not, how could it be improved?
4. Were the methods undertaken in the project respectful of wildlife? Would you change anything about the methods of the project?
5. Were you involved in the analysis and interpretation of the project's results? If so, do you feel that your input was considered and applied?
6. Is there any information not included in the Final Project Report that you think is important to the outcomes of the project?
7. How do you think that the results of the project could best be applied to wildlife management in Nunavut?
