NWMB Southampton Island Caribou Public Hearing - for Immediate Release

Adjournment by the Nunavut Wildlife Management Board of the June 3rd and 4th 2014 Southampton Island Caribou Public Hearing to the Fall of 2014

(May 28, 2014 – Iqaluit, Nunavut) The Nunavut Wildlife Management Board (NWMB) has decided to adjourn phase 2 of the Southampton Island Caribou Public Hearing to the fall of 2014. The in-person portion of phase 2 of the hearing was originally scheduled to take place at the Frobisher Inn in Iqaluit, on June 3rd and 4th 2014. The reason for the adjournment is that more time is required to obtain important evidence - primarily from the Government of Nunavut, but also potentially from Nunavut Tunngavik Inc. - for consideration at the hearing. Because this matter remains a top priority for the NWMB, it intends to reconvene the hearing at the earliest reasonable opportunity.

The hearing rules and a number of additional documents comprising the best available hearing information to date are available for download from the NWMB's Public Hearings Registry on its website (www.nwmb.com) or by contacting the NWMB at the following coordinates:
